Flower shop on the grounds of Ransom Everglades Club by: Barbara Reardon, Published on: 2008-02-23 00:00:00 The Ransom Everglades Club, which is nearing the end of its life, is a beautiful, quiet, hidden little gem in the heart of the Florida Everglades and Palm Beach County. The facility is located in the dunes just north of the Pahokee (Parakee) Ecological Reserve. It is surrounded by a 66-acre nature preserve on the Caloosahatchee River. In the late 1950s the Ransom Everglades Club was built as a private home for director John Ford of Ford Motor Company. The purpose was to bring a little civilization into the sparsely populated area north of the Everglades and to showcase the hidden charm of the wetland which is hidden within the Everglades National Park. Since then, Ransom Everglades has been developed as a pure hospitality venue and the setting is now one of the most beautiful places in South Florida. The property is only three miles from Florida's famous Palm Beach.
